

Lifetime Achievement/Service Award Nomination Deadline for submission December 30, 2024

The North America Region of The Union is calling for Nominations for its Awards. Each year, at the time of our annual meeting we recognize the valuable contributions of our colleagues to tuberculosis (TB) care and prevention. The 2025 TB conference will be held on February 26 - March 1, 2025, in Vancouver, BC, Canada.

The Lifetime Achievement Award of the Union-North America Region is the highest award given by the region. It is presented to recipients who have made an outstanding contribution in the field of Tuberculosis over an entire career. The contribution may have been in any aspect of TB, including basic science, epidemiology, public health, advocacy, patient care, education, nursing, and laboratory science. Nominees may be working in any position, organization, or profession.

The Service Award is given to individuals who have made a significant contribution to the practice of TB prevention and care. of TB. This award may be given annually. Recipients may include administrators, educators, and public health advisors, as well as nurses and physicians. Prior recipients are listed in here.

If you are a member of The Union-North America Region in good standing, you may nominate a candidate by filling out the attached form. The nominee need not be a NAR member but must have made his/her contributions in the NAR region – United States, Canada, or the English, French or Dutch speaking regions of the Caribbean and the Americas.

Nominees are reviewed by the Nominating Committee. Eligible candidates are then presented to the NAR Executive Committee for final selection. Please submit all nominations to Menn Biagtan at biagtan@bc.lung.ca by December 30, 2024 by using the attached forms.

Thank you for your assistance in bringing forward deserving individuals for this recognition.
